

Russ Linton's Uncanny Blog Tour

Source: Fictional Work

Dated: Oct. 14, 2014

DENTON, Texas -- From October 13th through October 31st, Russ Linton will be on virtual tour with his latest book, Crimson Son. He'll be interviewing with some of the busiest book blogs on the 'net. Follow along and you can enter for a chance to win an Amazon Gift card through Rafflecopter.

The interviews won't be your typical canned responses - Russ personalizes the answers for each stop and keeps the experience entertaining across the three week tour.

Care to hear a mythical account of how he was born a writer? Maybe you need to know why you should never ride a canoe down a snow-covered hill? Or perhaps you want to read an interview with Spencer, the snarky protagonist of Crimson Son, who states the best word to describe himself is "High-functioning"?

Russ' wit and intriguing life of misadventure and exploration are all on display in this three week blog hop.

When asked what advice he can give to new writers he replies, "Live life outside your head as much as inside." A mantra he's adhered to with a patchwork career path that includes philosophy, graphic design and a stint with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Often writers draw from interesting backgrounds to craft their work and Russ appears to be no exception to this rule.

Answers to these questions and more along with excerpts from Crimson Son will be available throughout the tour. Dates are as follows:

About Crimson Son

Nineteen-year-old Spencer Harrington is the son of the Crimson Mask, the world's most powerful superhero. Since witnessing his mother's abduction two years ago, he's been confined to his father's arctic bunker. When the "Icehole" comes under attack by a rampaging robot, Spencer is forced to launch into his father's dangerous world of weaponized human beings known as Augments.

With no powers of his own save a multi-tool, a quick wit and a boatload of emotional trauma, Spencer seeks to uncover his mother's fate and confront his absentee father. As he stumbles through a web of conspiracies and top secret facilities, he rallies a team of everyday people and cast-off Augments. But Spencer soon discovers that the Black Beetle isn't his only enemy, nor his worst.
